My dear Sir:

Since it has been my lot to help make prohibition laws I think it would be unwise and I would not be true to my convictions if I did not have summonsed before next grand jury of which I am a member Henry Ryman sargent of Timberville from ^{whom} a quart jar nearly full of moonshine was taken and broken after it had been from a man drunk and down in stock pens of Timberville.

Will you have the sheriff issue the summons if this is the proper way to proceed in such cases.

With kindest regards

I am truly yours

Dear Sir:

I have not had time to write you much lately but I would not be true to my conscience if I did not send you a few lines to let you know that I am still in the land of the living and that I am still your old friend and admirer.

I have been thinking of you very much lately and wondering how you are getting on. I hope you are well and happy. I have been very busy lately but I have managed to find some time to write you a few lines.
